Honorary Members.

Active Members (Undergraduates).‡

The cost of publication of the fraternity directory is comparatively great. The necessary expenses in connection with New Year Greeting cards, postage, etc., etc., in the effort to obtain reliable information concerning members is considerable. Members are urged to interest themselves in the Active Chapters, but are also encouraged to pay their annual dues to the Concilium Magnum. The active Alumni are uniformly called upon to pay the way of the inactive Alumni.

E. J. G. BEARDSLEY,
Scribus Magnus.

* Alumni Members become Active Life Members by payment at one time of $25.

† Alumni Members who pay dues.

Dear Brother:

"A chain is as strong as its weakest link."

Are you adding strength to our fraternity?

If we are to be a truly strong organization, it is necessary that every member, honorary, alumni and undergraduate, shall take an active interest in all that concerns the order and in each other. We need the annual contributions of the members for such expenses as the publishing of this directory, but we need their interest far more than their money. It is necessary that each of the honorary and alumni members remember that his life, personal as well as professional, should be such that the younger men may emulate, while the undergraduate members should live such lives as will always reflect credit upon the pin that they are privileged to wear.

The Concilium Magnum wishes to call special attention to the desirability of members (honorary, alumni and active undergraduate) wearing the emblem pin of the fraternity at all times. It is our earnest desire that the present edition of the directory shall undergo an almost immediate revision. All suggestions, additions, corrections or changes will be welcomed by us.

E. J. G. BEARDSLEY,

Scribus Magnus.

For the Concilium Magnum, March 15, 1912.

2030 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia.

Dear Brother:

Do you realize that you are one-nine hundred and ninety-seventh part of the entire fraternity?

Is it not well to ask yourself whether the fraternity is a stronger, better organization because you are privileged to wear its emblem? There are many ways of being useful in a fraternity. As an active member, the qualities most essential are unselfishness and loyalty. As an alumni member, the first duty of every man is to be a credit to himself and the fraternity he represents. High ideals in life and in his profession are a necessity for true success. There is but one way for Phi Alpha Sigma men to live and to work, and that is the best way. Careful physical examinations, honesty of purpose and a square deal for every patient that comes to you is but living up to the Golden Rule of Medicine and of life. No matter how small the fee obtained, the quality of service by a Phi Alpha Sigma man should be the very best.

Let us help one another. There are few of us but that have felt the help of other men, and it is but our privilege and pleasure to help other men over the rough places.

Let us all resolve to do something for the Fraternity and its individual members the coming year. The busy man is always the man who has time for something worth while.

E. J. G. BEARDSLEY,
Scribus Magnus.

For the Concilium Magnum, May 25th, 1914.
2030 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia.

Dear Brother:

Phi Alpha Sigma fraternity needs your interest and help today just as she needed it when you were proud to be chosen for active membership. Is it not possible that you too need the influence of the fraternity and its ideals in your life today as you did in the undergraduate days? If you are successful, you need the same unselfish principles lest you lose the power to sympathize with and understand your less fortunate fellow-men, and, if success has not been as markedly yours, then you require the same staunch qualities to make you work on, and at least deserve the success that you are happy to see other men obtaining.

The fraternity man that has entirely lost his interest in his fraternity is to be pitied. Search his life and you will find that he is seldom dependable in any duty.

Our aim should be to live lives that will reflect credit upon Phi Alpha Sigma, and especially in our relation with other medical men to be unselfish, honorable and just.

E. J. G. BEARDSLEY,

Scribus Magnus.

For the Concilium Magnum, July 25th, 1916.

2030 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia.

Dear Brother:

Since the last revision of the directory events of the greatest importance have occurred in our own and other countries. The greatest war of all time has been fought and won for Civilization. Long before the then existing political administration had been forced to belated action by outraged public opinion, Phi Alpha Sigma men had enlisted in the Foreign Legion of the Allies and were proudly unneutral in thought and act. When our country at last entered the war men wearing our pin were to be found in every branch of military and naval service. That they served their country well will never be denied, while scattered through the present volume will be found sad evidence of how frequently the supreme sacrifice was made in camp and field. Decorations, honors and rank won by honest and faithful service will be found recorded, and all too well the Editor knows the incompleteness of the presented war records. Our men that remained at home did, in many instances, harder and less appreciated work in the public service with less return than was obtained by those in service. Never was there a better opportunity of testing our fraternity ideals and estimating their importance in our lives than during and since the war.

More than ever before the medical profession needs the leaven of fraternity ideals to make it more serviceable to the public.

Our fraternity is proving useful and all that is necessary to make it more useful is for every member to strive to aid the undergraduate members in some way and thus interest himself more fully in their needs.

E. J. G. BEARDSLEY,
Scribus Magnus.

For the Concilium Magnum, March 10, 1922.
258 South Sixteenth Street.

Have YOU done all that you hoped to do to make the Fraternity a success?

Its strength and usefulness depend entirely upon what you and I do to aid it.

Please send any corrections, additions or changes in the Directory to the Scribus Magnus.

If the Fraternity was useful to us in our undergraduate days, how glad we should be to aid in making it even more useful to the Active members who are now traveling the same rough road that we have known in the past.

Alpha, Beta, Delta, Epsilon, Eta and Theta Chapters all need financial aid from their Alumni members, so that they can live together and really enjoy to the full Fraternity life.

The Scribus Magnus will be most happy to forward to the Officers of the various chapters any sums that members wish to contribute for the purpose of making the Fraternity more useful to its members.

To be truly interested in any order we must invest both interest and money in it. Few investments will yield the return that a real heart and purse interest in the lives of our younger Fraternity brothers will give us.

ALPHA CHAPTER

Alpha Chapter was founded in New York City, April 9, 1888,* at the Bellevue Hospital Medical College.

It is the reincarnation of the Ancient Order of the Esclepiades. It is the development of ideals, inspired by thoughtful inquiry into social history, from the time of Esculapius down to our present brilliant period.

The emblem of the Society is a collection of the classic symbols of power, wisdom, diligence and activity. Those who wear it are permitted to bask in the effulgence of Esculapian intelligence.

The first moderns to perceive the light, and to revive the Esclepiades, were the seven charter members of the Alpha Chapter:

HERMAN ARTHUR HAUBOLD,	JESSE TOWNSEND DURYEA,
EDMUND YARD HILL,	WALLER H. DADE,
JOHN ENSOR HUTCHESON,	FRANK HOLLISTER,
NATHAN BRISTOL VAN ETEN,

The first ideal was that of good-fellowship among a few men at Bellevue at that time. There was little thought of the future. The ideals were for our own, and those ideals have evidently been the reasons for the success of the Society.

Only the best material in the College was desired. There was no wish for expansion. The number was kept small. The personal qualification was most important. Ability as a student was of small importance when weighed against character. The standards of the early men were high, and not one of them has in any measurable sense failed in his duty toward his fellow.

The Honorary Members of the Alpha Chapter were men of the best type, and the facts that they were willing to identify themselves with Phi Alpha Sigma showed their appreciation of the character of the Society.

Beta Gamma, Delta and Epsilon were hardly dreamed of in the early days, although the first draft of the constitution made explicit provision for the establishment of chapters.

When an opportunity came to establish a chapter at the University of Pennsylvania, the Alpha Chapter demanded the highest qualifications from the applicants among the students and among the faculty of the University. Hobart Hare, George de

* The date of the foundation of the fraternity has always been given as 1886, as this was the year of the foundation of the Kappa Delta Phi Medical Fraternity of the Bellevue Hospital Medical College, which merged with and became a part of Phi Alpha Sigma Fraternity.

Schweinitz, John Marshall, Edward Martin and Barton Cooke Hirst were taken from the Faculty, and are among the most brilliant men in the country today. The same ideal possessed the early men of Beta, and they have been most successful.

Gamma has preserved the standard, and Delta and Epsilon have had great success.

One cannot read the roster of Phi Alpha Sigma without a glow of proud satisfaction if his name is there included

The spirit of Phi Alpha Sigma is the something we can hardly define, but it has been evolved from the association of men of high purpose, and will carry the society to material success, and cause it to long endure.

BETA CHAPTER

The founder of the Pennsylvania Chapter was Dr. Charles M. Niesley, of the Class of 1890. During his third and last year in the Medical School, a member of the Alpha Chapter, Campbell, began corresponding with him on the subject of establishing a chapter at the University of Pennsylvania. Thinking well of the plan, he approached Dr. George Fetterolf, of the Class of 1891, and between those two it was agreed that Niesley should select a number of third-year men and Fetterolf a group from the second-year class, to whom the proposition and its desirability should be broached. Those selected from the Class of 1890 were: E. A. Bryant, J. B. Brimhall, W. M. Carothers and C. M. Niesley, and from the Class of 1891, J. G. Clark, N. L. Johnson, H. M. Miller, G. C. Stout, H. M. Morton and G. Fetterolf. The first meeting was held in Fetterolf's room at 126 S. Thirty-fourth Street, and at this time a temporary organization was formed, with Niesley President, Hiller Secretary and Clark Treasurer.

The plan of starting a chapter of Phi Alpha Sigma was favorably acted on at once, and active correspondence with Alpha Chapter begun. At that time the only existing chapter was the Alpha, discretion lay entirely with it as to the granting of the charter. This having been done, all that remained was the installation at Pennsylvania, and the date for this ceremony was set for February 1, 1890.

Alpha sent over for this purpose Hollister, Campbell, H. A. Meeks, Hutchinson and Carroll. On the date mentioned these gentlemen were entertained at dinner at the Colonnade Hotel by the Pennsylvanians, and in the evening, with Hollister as presiding officer, the men named above were initiated. Immediately after the initiation chapter officers were elected, the first to hold these offices being C. M. Niesley, Primarius; G. C. Stout, Sub-Primarius; H. M. Hiller, Scribus, and J. G. Clark, Thesauri Custos. At later initiations held in Lincoln Hall, at Broad and Fairmount Avenue (a building later razed to make way for the Hotel Lorraine) and at Dental Hall, at Thirteenth and Arch Streets, there were added to the charter members, C. H. Van Dyke, W. R. Parker, H. McC. Haseltine, T. A. Clayton and J. H. Burtenshaw. With this group from the upper classes the chapter ended its first academic year, to start in the Fall on the long and honorable career which "he who runs may read" between the lines of the appended brief biographic sketches.

GAMMA CHAPTER

AGNEW HODGE HILSMAN (Alpha Chapter),
NATHAN JENKS (Alpha Chapter),
WILLIAM JOSEPH JONES.

CLASS 1900.

PAUL WATERMAN,
DANIEL O'HEARN.

The history of the foundation of the Gamma Chapter begins with the opening of the Medical Department of Cornell University in 1898.

Among the men admitted to senior standing, and who were graduated in the first class, were two Phi Alpha Sigma brethren of the Alpha Chapter. These men, Agnew Hodge Hilsman and Nathan Jenks, were delegated by the mother Chapter to introduce Phi Alpha Sigma into the new Medical College.

The men first selected by Brothers Hilsman and Jenks were from members of the Senior Class—Cossitt, Hall, Farrell, and Jones. The Alpha Chapter later in the Fall of 1898 initiated these men into the mysteries of the order at Bethel Hall, the Masonic chambers in the Grand Opera House standing at the corner of Eighth Avenue and Twenty-third Street.

At a subsequent initiation held in the same place, the men of greatest promise in the under classes were added to the Chapter Roll, and hailed with the original four of the Senior Class as the charter members of the Chapter.

Owing to the fact that the Constitution contained no clause providing for the establishment of new chapters, the exact status of the Gamma Chapter was not determined until a later meeting of the Concilium Magnum.

Phi Alpha Sigma was the pioneer in the fraternity field of Cornell, and the activity and foresight of the charter members is responsible for the many illustrious names which grace our Chapter roll.

Several members of the Faculty were invited to become Honorary Members of Phi Alpha Sigma, and responded with enthusiasm to the call for sponsors of the first Medical College society. Among those who from the first have taken an active interest in furthering the good of our order are Joseph E. Winters, James Ewing, Warren Coleman, J. S. Ferguson, J. Clifton Edgar and Lewis A. Conner.

A number of the first meetings of the Chapter were held in the old Loomis Laboratory on Twenty-sixth Street, through the courtesy of one of Phi Alpha Sigma's best friends, the late Henry P. Loomis.

Nu Sigma Nu, Omega Upsilon Phi and Alpha Kappa Kappa were soon in the field, and rivalry became very keen as class after class came to New York to begin the four years' study. Phi Alpha Sigma has maintained throughout the eleven years of existence the precedence in selection of representative men. A glance through the following pages will show the growth in professional attainments of the men whose lives were consecrated to medicine within the halls of our fraternity.

The lives of these men, both as recorded upon these pages and the deeds of self-sacrifice and generosity necessarily left unrecorded, will be a stimulus to their younger brothers, a clear promise for the future of our Chapter, a living witness to the value of the training and association of the Phi Alpha Sigma fraternity and the vitality of its principles.

During the World War the Gamma Chapter became inactive. Local conditions at Cornell have seemed to render revived activity at this time inadvisable. We sincerely hope that the Chapter may be revived at a future date, but only if it is possible to retain the same high standards as has obtained in the Chapter since its installation.

DELTA CHAPTER

The Delta Chapter of Phi Alpha Sigma Fraternity was organized very largely through the efforts of Raymond A. Clifford during the school terms 1898 and 1899. For a number of years previously efforts had been made toward the organization of Greek letter fraternities at the Jefferson Medical College, and overtures had been made from time to time to the Beta Chapter of Phi Alpha Sigma. Each such effort had met with failure until the autumn of 1898, when Clifford, Royce and Royer, of the Class of 1899, and Taylor, of 1900, began again to study the attitude of the members of the Beta Chapter through Clifford's good friends, Rankin and O'Dell. During this time the nucleus of the future Delta Chapter was being selected.

The steps of procedure from this time on were as follows: The Beta Chapter men of the University of Pennsylvania known by Clifford pledged their help toward securing a Chapter at the Jefferson College. Eight of the charter members brought about a preliminary organization at the Jefferson; an application from these eight men was presented to Beta Chapter on December 5th, 1898. Beta Chapter delegated Brothers Rankin, Hedding, Evans, Jacobs and Lukens to meet the proposed Jefferson applicants and report back to the Beta Chapter. A recommendation from this committee to the Beta Chapter and to the Primarius Magnus, Brother George Fetterolf, presenting and passing a formal resolution in Beta Chapter, January 14, 1899, recommending that the Concilium Magnum grant a chapter to the petitioners at the Jefferson Medical College. Subsequent to the favorable action upon the resolution by the Alpha and Gamma Chapters, the original eight men who signed the application for a chapter increased their number to fifteen, and on April 12th, 1899, the Delta Chapter of Phi Alpha Sigma was duly installed by Primarius Magnus George Fetterolf.

All of the charter members of Delta are glad to remember that the existence of Delta Chapter was due almost entirely to the earnest, self-sacrificing work done by Brother Clifford, encouraged and assisted by Professors Hobart A. Hare and George E. de Schweinitz.

One unaccustomed to the rivalries and jealousies existing in professional schools and unacquainted with the intricate and time-consuming methods of Greek letter fraternities can scarcely appreciate the amount of difficult and discouraging work required.

Almost any medical student might be able to accomplish the required work, but in addition to strenuous work, an amount of diplomacy, finesse and clever politics was required that could have been found in no one of our group but Clifford.

The constitution of Delta Chapter and the installation of the first list of officers took place in the University Club, under the patronage of Beta Chapter, April 12, '99. After the fifteen Charter Members had been initiated in a group, five applicants for admission to Beta Chapter were initiated in the usual individual routine way and Delta's officers were suitably instructed for their work.

Delta Chapter, having been constituted late in the school session, undertook but one initiation—that of Cushing—before the end of the term. During the summer of '99 Cushing and Royer formed a House Committee and secured rooms in a large dwelling over a store, at No. 1033 Walnut Street, where the Fraternity made its home for two winters, and two years later Royer, Beardsley and Shannon, acting as a House Committee, secured the splendid house at No. 920 Spruce Street.

For twelve happy years 920 Spruce Street served as the Chapter Home, but the growth and prosperity of the Chapter at last demanded better accommodations, and in September, 1913, the Chapter installed itself in the roomy and comfortable house at 900 Spruce Street. In 1921 Delta Chapter purchased its new home at 925 Pine Street.

EPSILON CHAPTER

The charter for Epsilon Chapter was granted at the meeting of the Grand Council in February, 1903. Acting upon instruction from the Scribus Magnus, the following members were installed by W. S. Carter in March, 1903:

JOHN W. BRADFIELD
OSCAR H. PLANT
WALLACE ROUSE
HERBERT STERZING

CONN L. MILBURN
WALLACE RALSTON
FRIENCH SIMPSON, JR.
J. A. WATTS

J. T. WILHITE

The Chapter organized by electing John W. Bradfield, Primarius; J. T. Wilhite, Sub-Primarius; Friench Simpson, Jr., Scribus, and Oscar H. Plant, Thesauri Custos.

A group of students in the Medical School of the University of Texas had applied for a Chapter some years previous to 1903. Their first effort was not successful, but they maintained their organization and applied again in 1901. After many delays the charter was granted, largely through the interest and untiring efforts of Dr. J. H. McKee, of Beta Chapter.

In the meantime, some of the original applicants had graduated and left the University. Some of these returned to be present at the organization of the Chapter, and all have since affiliated as alumni members.

Since its organization in 1903, Epsilon Chapter has been active each college session, and by maintaining high standards has always kept a full membership.

ZETA CHAPTER

Zeta Chapter of the Phi Alpha Sigma Fraternity at Northwestern University Medical School was instituted December 17, 1910, by a committee appointed by the Concilium-Magnum, consisting of N. B. Van Etten, of Alpha Chapter; T. C. Chalmers, of Alpha Chapter; R. V. Patterson, of Delta Chapter, and assisted by J. R. Reuling, of Delta Chapter, and Edgar H. Powell, of Alpha Chapter.

The Charter Members of the Chapter who were installed at the time by the Committee were as follows:

W. H. HOLMES, '10	C. A. HEFTY, '10
C. W. HENNY, '10	P. J. LEAHY, '10
J. H. ROBINSON, '10	L. A. JUHNKE, '10
L. ANGEL, '10	S. V. HODGE, '10
C. A. TRAINOR, '10	J. T. GREGORY, '10
F. M. F. MEIXNER, '11	K. B. BLAHNIK, '11
E. H. BROWN, '11	S. L. KRZYSKO, '11
E. V. DEL BECCARO, '10

The Chapter organized by electing Fred M. F. Meixner, Primarius; S. L. Krzysko, Sub-Primarius; E. H. Brown, Scribus, and Karel B. Blahnik, Thesauri Custos.

In the Fall of 1909 a group of the students of Northwestern University Medical School, in the Senior Class, who had banded themselves together into a temporary organization for mutual benefit, began to speculate upon the desirability of affiliating with some medical fraternity, and with that end in view they elected officers, and W. H. Holmes was then chosen as the Secretary.

After an untiring, relentless and ceaseless correspondence with the Scribus Magnus of Phi Alpha Sigma, and due entirely to Mr. Holmes' untiring effort, interest and zeal, a charter was granted to this group of men, allowing them to establish Zeta Chapter, but only after a special vote had been taken by the other Chapters of the Fraternity. This was late in 1910, and in the meantime some of the original members of the temporary organization had dropped out, the remainder had graduated as part of the Class of 1910. In order to have undergraduates to install, the original members decided to ask four men from the Class of 1911 and one member of the Class of 1913 to join them, and be taken in as Charter Members, as a nucleus for the future Zeta Chapter.

The installation of the Chapter was performed by the committee on the afternoon and evening of December 17, 1910, the ten graduates and five undergraduate members being initiated. The ceremony was followed by a banquet at the Lexington Hotel, with Dr. W. H. Holmes, the real father of Zeta, as toastmaster, and the committee from the Concilium-Magnum as guests.

A few days after the installation a joint meeting was held of the graduate and undergraduate members, and it was the consensus of opinion that the best interests of Zeta could be fostered by an immediate election of officers, the above-named officers being elected.

The undergraduate members at once started a movement for new members, and with the aid of the graduate men, especially Dr. Angel, seven men were pledged, and the initiation was held on February 4, immediately after the semester examinations, with all the rites and ritual, with a banquet in honor of the new members following.

Since then the officers and members have been untiring in their efforts, trying to keep up the original pace toward the success of the Chapter; trying to make it a representative Chapter of the Phi Alpha Sigma. A committee has been appointed to investigate ways and means for a Chapter House, and ere another class comes in the future may see Zeta installed in its own new home.

With this brief introduction, we make our bow as the infant among the Chapters, and for subsequent history we hope much, and the future of the Chapter will be watched over by the Charter Members with a jealous eye, while the other members will always try to hold the standards and ideals of Phi Alpha Sigma above reproach, trying to be an honor to the Fraternity, to the Chapter and to themselves.

OFFICERS OF CHAPTER.

PRIMARIUS	SUB-PRIMARIUS	SCRIBUS	THESAURI CUSTOS
1911-'12 R. R. Harrington	S. L. Krzysko	E. H. Brown	R. R. Harrington
1910-'11 F. M. F. Meixner	E. J. Stelter	J. W. Thornton	E. W. Del Beccaro

The Scribus Magnus greatly regrets that he is compelled to issue the statement that owing to the marked decrease in the numbers of medical students at the Northwestern University, the Zeta Chapter of Phi Alpha Sigma no longer has an active chapter. It is to be hoped that in the near future the Alumni members of Zeta Chapter can find the proper material among the undergraduates of the University and that the Chapter may be revived.

The Scribus Magnus wishes to acknowledge the loyalty and true fraternity spirit of many of the Zeta Chapter men who, despite the lack of an active Chapter, work for the interests of Phi Alpha Sigma as heartily as could be desired.

Up to this time (1922) conditions have not been favorable to a revival of Zeta Chapter, but we still have hopes that it may become active again in the near future.

ETA CHAPTER

Eta Chapter of Phi Alpha Sigma was organized during the troublesome times of the "World War." During the early part of 1917 a number of young physicians, who throughout their medical career had been banded as a social club, decided to strengthen their bonds of friendship by attempting to merge their organization with that of one of the virile national medical fraternities. Accordingly Phi Alpha Sigma was petitioned, and during the latter days of 1917, by special dispensation from the Concilium Magnum, Eta Chapter, as representative of the School of Medicine of Tulane University, took its place amongst the honored bodies composing our noble fraternity. Brother Sawyer, of Alpha Chapter, attended to the installation ceremonials of our five charter members: Oliver F. Ernst, Harold O. Ernst, Rigney D'Aunoy, Arthur Caire and Francis Peter Danna. During the period of America's entry in the great war, and immediately thereafter the chapter, naturally, was constrained to limit its activities.

Local conditions in Tulane University have compelled us to grow not by "bounds and leaps," but by mere steps. We have attempted at all times to adhere strictly to the precepts of our order, and though few in number, we feel that every one of the brothers comprising the Eta Chapter of Phi Alpha Sigma recognizes the importance of his obligations, and at all times attempts to foster the ideals of unselfishness, loyalty, magnanimity and generosity.

THETA CHAPTER

In February, 1921, the Concilium Magnum granted a charter for Theta Chapter. Since 1919, when the Board of Trustees of Baylor University opened the doors of the medical school to fraternities, a group of students banded themselves together with the purpose of investigating medical fraternities in general. This idea was originated by Kelly L. Cox, '20; Speight Jenkins, '21, and Archie G. Sneed, '21, and others immediately joined the movement.

This band of selected men soon decided that the one fraternity that they most desired to become members of was Phi Alpha Sigma, and that they would not leave a stone unturned until they had made every possible effort to get a charter from this medical fraternity.

It was chiefly through the efforts of Dr. E. H. Cary, of Alpha Chapter, that the charter for Theta Chapter was granted by the Concilium Magnum in February, 1921.

Other Frates in Urbe who have taken an active part in the organization of Theta Chapter are Doctors M. E. Lott, H. F. Newton, G. M. Underwood and J. T. Downs, of Epsilon Chapter.

Acting under the directions of Scribus Magnus Beardsley, eleven men from Epsilon Chapter came to Dallas and on March 25, 1921, installed the following men as active members:

BALL, C. E.	McADAMS, W. R.
BRADFORD, J. E.	PEACE, D. W.
BOBO, T. C.	PIERCE, P. L.
BOBO, ZACK, JR.	REEVES, R. J.

LAWLER, I. C.	SMITH, E. L.
MENDENHALL, E. M.	SNEED, A. G.
MOORE, C. D.	STRICKLAND, T. C.
WOOLSEY, W. J.

At a banquet held at the Oriental Hotel, March 26, 1921, the following six honorary members were installed:

DR. C. M. GRIGSBY	DR. C. M. ROSSER
DR. J. H. MCGUIRE	DR. HALL SHANNON
DR. W. E. MASSEY	DR. W. W. SHORTAL

CONSTITUTION

CONSTITUTION OF THE PHI ALPHA SIGMA FRATERNITY.

PREAMBLE.

WHEREAS, It is for the well being of an individual that he find among his fellow men those to whom he may turn for sympathy and encouragement at all times, and especially, when in the hours of sorrow or distress, pain or sickness, trial or misfortune, he is in need of a helping hand, there may be those to whom he may look for assistance or words of cheer; and, that in days of prosperity, when fortune smiles upon him there may be others who can rejoice with him; or there may be those in need, who, in the past, have given him aid, and whom he can now assist; and

WHEREAS, Man's disposition and moral nature are the outcome of his social intercourse; and, moreover, as a student of medicine, being, as he is oftentimes far from those who are dear to him, needs to be surrounded by the inspiring influence of love and friendship; and, as in his days of inexperience he requires the friendly assistance and counsel of those who have already gained experience, skill, and renown in the noblest of arts,—that of healing the sick;

WE, the members of the society known as Phi Alpha Sigma, in order to bring upon ourselves these advantages, and to maintain the lofty position and noble bearing of our profession; and recognizing the necessity, in all regularly constituted societies, in the interests of unity, of certain laws and rules of government, do adopt this as our Constitution, and solemnly pledge ourselves to its support:

26. The delegates shall be elected for only the current meeting of the Concilium-Magnum.

27. The officers of the Concilium-Magnum shall be the Primarius-Magnus, the Sub-Primarius-Magnus, and the Scribus-Magnus. They shall be elected by the delegates at the Annual Meeting of the Concilium-Magnum, and shall hold their office for one year. All shall be alumni members of the society. 30. The Concilium-Magnum shall elect the Primarius-Magnus, Sub-Primarius-Magnus and Scribus-Magnus, who if present shall assume office just before adjournment; shall revoke charters; hear reports from its officers, the Executive Council and the chapters; and shall transact such other business as may come before it.

31. It shall be the duty of the Primarius-Magnus to preside over the Concilium-Magnum and Executive Council; to call the meetings of the Executive Council and to appoint all committees as necessary.

32. It shall be the duty of the Sub-Primarius-Magnus to preside over the Concilium-Magnum and Executive Council, in case of there being no Primarius-Magnus; to act in his place at any meeting from which he may be absent.

33. It shall be the duty of the Scribus-Magnus to take charge of the correspondence and record the transactions of the Concilium-Magnum and Executive Council to take charge of its books, records and archives and the general properties of the society; to keep an accurate record of the membership in the society, to act as treasurer and to edit and distribute all publications.

34. Not less than a majority of the delegates of the Concilium-Magnum shall constitute a quorum.

ARTICLE IX.

THE CHAPTERS.

35. The officers of each chapter shall be a Primarius, a Sub-Primarius, a Scribus and a Thesauri Custos.

36. It shall be the duty of the Primarius to preside at all meetings of the chapter, to appoint all committees, to act as a member, ex-officio, of all standing and special committees and to call the meetings of the chapter. He shall also direct all initiation ceremonies and administer the oath to the candidates.

37. It shall be the duty of the Scribus-Magnus to act as Primarius in case of there being no Primarius and to act in his place at any meeting from which he may be absent.

38. It shall be the duty of the Scribus to take charge of the chapter correspondence; to record all transactions of meetings; to notify the Scribus-Magnus of all initiations into the chapter and of expulsions; to send an annual report of the chapter's condition to the Concilium-Magnum; to take charge of the charter, copy of the Constitution and By-Laws given to the chapter and all other documents and properties of the chapter not specifically belonging to any other officer; to notify the Scribus-Magnus of the election of delegates and to issue all notices of meetings.

39. It shall be the duty of the Thesauri-Custos to take charge of the financial affairs of the chapter, to collect and remit to the Scribus-Magnus the general fraternity dues; to levy, according to the chapter By-Laws, all dues, fines and assessments and collect the same; and to pay all bills as approved by the chapter or executive committee. He shall keep an accurate account of the chapter finances; his books shall at all times be open to inspection by the executive committee; and he shall, at the expiration of his term of office, submit a detailed report of his transactions to the chapter.

40. The election of officers of the chapters shall take place at the last meeting before the close of the college year. The Primarius shall be chosen from the members of the next senior class. No member shall hold more than one office at one time.

41. The officers shall be elected and the standing committees appointed for terms of one year each.

42. Each chapter shall hold an annual business meeting.

43. Any chapter shall hold a special meeting when so ordered by the Executive Council. The Primarius shall call a special meeting at the request of one-third of the undergraduate members of the chapter.

44. Each chapter shall hold at least six regular meetings during the college year.

45. Each chapter shall institute By-Laws by which its business may be conducted, but these By-Laws shall not in any way conflict with the Constitution or By-Laws of the society.

ARTICLE X.

COMMITTEES.

46. In the Concilium-Magnum and Executive Council there shall be no standing committees. The Primarius-Magnus shall have power to appoint all special committees, and they shall hold their appointment for one year unless discharged by the Primarius-Magnus, prior to that time.

47. In the chapters the Primarius shall appoint all committees and shall himself constitute a member, ex-officio, of all of them. There shall be two standing committees: the Executive Committee and the Committee on Membership, each consisting of at least three members. They shall be appointed at the first meeting in the college year and shall exist for one year. All special committees shall, unless previously discharged, exist for one year, unless a special time be set for their discharge.

ARTICLE XI.

ESTABLISHMENT OF CHAPTERS.

48. Upon the application of seven members of good standing of the student-body of any authenticated medical college of the regular school, situated in the United States of America, the applicants having satisfied the conditions of Section 12, it shall be the duty of the Scribus-Magnus to supply each chapter with copies of such application. The chapters shall then submit the question to ballot at their next meeting. If one-third of the members of any chapter shall object to the establishment of the new chapter, the Scribus-Magnus shall, on the receipt of such information, notify the petitioners of the failure of their application. But if the question has received the favorable vote of all the chapters, the Executive Council shall appoint a committee to bestow the charter and install the applicants and to supply the applicants with a copy of the ritual and Constitution.

49. The charters must be signed by all the general officers of the fraternity.

50. Each chapter, after its establishment, shall be furnished with a copy of the Constitution and of the By-Laws of the society.

ARTICLE XII.

ASSESSMENTS.

51. The Concilium-Magnum or Executive Council in order to defray whatever expenses it may incur in the transaction of its duties, shall have power to levy upon each chapter an annual assessment in proportion to the number of undergraduate members in each.

52. Each undergraduate member shall be assessed two dollars per annum, and each initiate shall be assessed two dollars additional, to be turned over to the Scribus-Magnus, and each alumnus shall pay to the Concilium-Magnum annual dues of $2.00, and any alumnus, by the payment at one time of $25.00 shall be exempt from such dues for life. From the amount so collected the Scribus-Magnus shall pay all bills incurred in the performance of his duties.

53. The Concilium-Magnum or Executive Council shall have power to levy a fine on any chapter.

54. Each chapter, for its support, shall have power to levy upon undergraduate and graduate members annual dues of such amount as shall be deemed necessary to meet its expenses.

55. Each member of the society, after his initiation, and after he has taken his oath of allegiance to the society, and attached his signature to the Constitution, shall pay to the Thesauri-Custos of his chapter an initiation fee of such amount as shall be prescribed by the By-Laws of the society.

56. Each chapter shall have power to levy a fine upon its members for misdemeanors, non-Payment of dues and initiation fees or absences from meetings.

ARTICLE XIII.

REGISTRATION AND TRANSFERS.

57. When an individual has become a member of this society according to Article VI, Sections 17 and 18, it shall be the duty of the Scribus of the chapter to send to the Scribus-Magnus a report, stating the full name, age, date of initiation, class and college of the new member. The Scribus-Magnus shall then place this information upon the records of the society and shall return to the Scribus a certificate of membership for the member of such form as the By-Laws may direct. In the event of the Scribus of the chapter not sending the data of the new member to the Scribus Magnus within one week of the initiation the chapter shall be fined the sum of five dollars.

58. When for any reason a member of this society shall leave the college he is attending, to become a student of medicine at another college where there is a chapter of Phi Alpha Sigma, and may desire to become a member of the chapter at that college and relinquish his rights at his former chapter, he may notify the latter of his desire, and their committee on membership shall then bring his name before the chapter at the next regular meeting following his proposal by one of the members. If he receives a favorable vote of a majority of the members, he shall be notified of his election and if still desirous of the change of membership, he shall then notify the Scribus of his chapter, as shall also the Scribus of the chapter he wishes to join, of his election. If the Executive Committee of his former chapter, on investigation of his standing, find that he is not financially indebted to his chapter, they shall instruct their Scribus to officially notify the latter Scribus, in writing, of his standing, which certificate shall be signed by the Primarius and Scribus of his former chapter.

On receipt of this, the Scribus of the latter chapter shall present it at the next regular meeting of the chapter, and he shall be declared a member, without initiation or oath. The Scribus of his new chapter shall then notify the Scribus-Magnus of the transfer, and the Scribus-Magnus shall make note of the transfer on the records of the society and shall notify the member's former chapter that he has been transferred, when proper record of the same shall be made in his old chapter's books.

A chapter may withhold a certificate of the standing of one of its members if he be financially indebted to them until such indebtedness be paid.

ARTICLE XIV.

RESIGNATIONS AND EXPULSIONS.

59. As one of the qualities of a true gentleman requires that he shall at all times be true to his word, it is to be expected that no member of this society who has once pledged himself to uphold and obey this Constitution should ever desire to resign his rights of membership. Therefore, no resignation from any member of this society shall be recognized or accepted.

60. Non-payment of dues, initiation fee, fines or absences, misbehavior at meetings, repeated non-attendance at meetings without excuse, wilful violation of this Constitution, or of the By-Laws of this society, or of his chapter's By-Laws, the perpetration of any act whereby the secrets of the society might become known to any person not a member of the society, or conduct which might reflect discredit upon the society, or the profession of medicine, may be considered offenses punishable by expulsion from the society.

61. Before being expelled from the society a member shall be given a fair trial before a special meeting of the chapter called for the purpose and at which two-thirds of the undergraduate members shall constitute a quorum. The Primarius shall act as an impartial judge. If two-thirds of the undergraduate members are in favor of the expulsion, he shall be declared expelled, but may have the privilege of appeal to the Concilium-Magnum. The chapter shall be represented by one of its members, whom it shall choose. In either trial the accused may appear without counsel or he may choose any member of his chapter to act as his counsel.

If a majority of the members of the Concilium-Magnum are in favor of expulsion after a fair trial, the member shall be declared expelled and shall not be allowed further appeal. He shall then deliver to the chapter his certificate of membership, all papers or properties belonging to it or relating to it or to the society at large, and also his pin, for which a fair price shall be paid him.

He shall be notified of his impending trial in each case at least two weeks before the next meeting of the Concilium-Magnum, in order to prepare himself for his defense. If he shall be absent from such meetings without reasonable excuse, the trial shall proceed without his presence, but if his absence is justifiable in the opinion of a majority of the meeting, the trial may be postponed to a future date, in which case he shall be given the customary notice of two weeks.

This article applies to both alumni and undergraduate members.

62. Members of other chapters attending a medical college, at which there is a chapter of Phi Alpha Sigma, shall be considered as being under the jurisdiction of that chapter, and if such a member shall be judged guilty of wilful violations of this Constitution or of the By-Laws of the society, of the perpetration of any act whereby the secrets of the society might become known to any one not a member of the society, or of conduct which might reflect discredit upon the society, or the profession of medicine, that chapter at the college he is attending shall notify the Concilium-Magnum of such charges, and if that body deem the charges worthy of expulsion from the society, it shall notify the chapter of its opinion and the chapter shall then give him a fair trial, with privilege of appeal to the Concilium-Magnum, as directed in Section 61 of this Constitution. He may choose any member of his own chapter to act as his counsel.

ARTICLE XV.

WITHDRAWAL OF CHARTERS.

63. Non-payment of assessments by a chapter, failure to punish in a proper manner, violations of this Constitution or of the By-Laws by the members of the chapter as enumerated in Section 60 (except non-payment of dues, initiation fee, fines, or absences), or the perpetration of any act whereby the secrets of the society might become known to any person not a member of the society, or conduct which might reflect discredit upon the society, or the profession of medicine, or wilful violations of this Constitution or of the By-Laws by the chapter may be considered offenses punishable by revoking the charter of that chapter by the Concilium-Magnum.

64. If it shall be the opinion of the Executive Council that sufficient cause exists to necessitate an investigation of the affairs of a chapter with view to revoking its charter, a statement of charges shall be sent to the chapter accompanied by a notice that a trial shall be held at the next meeting of the Concilium-Magnum, at which meeting the charges shall be submitted to the Scribus-Magnus and the trial proceed along the following lines: If three-fourths of the Concilium-Magnum (not including the delegates of the chapter on trial) are in favor of withdrawing the charter after a fair trial, the chapter as a whole shall then be notified and shall deliver to the Scribus-Magnus its charter, Constitution, By-Laws and all its papers, archives and properties belonging or relating to the society in any way, and the delegates of that chapter shall cease to be members of the Concilium-Magnum.

65. All of the undergraduate members of the chapter, and such of the alumni members as are deemed guilty of misdemeanors as enumerated in Section 60, shall be given a fair trial before the Concilium-Magnum, conducted according to the instructions set forth in Section 61.

66. Resignations of chapters as a body from this society shall not be recognized or accepted.

ARTICLE XVI.

ANNUAL REPORT AND RECORDS.

67. It shall be the duty of the Scribus of each chapter, on demand of Scribus-Magnus, to send to the latter a report, stating the condition of the chapter for the past year, the names of all its undergraduate members, and date of their initiation; the names of these members who obtained their degree at the close of the last year of college, and the date of graduation; and of any deaths that have occurred among its members with the date of death. The Scribus-Magnus shall keep an accurate record of these facts.

68. It shall be the duty of the Scribus of each chapter to keep a record of these facts concerning the members of his chapter and also of the age, address, hospital appointments of all its members and of any honors conferred upon them, in such a manner as the By-Laws may direct in order that the society shall at all times have a history of each of its members.

69. An annual report which shall embody the chapter reports, the proceedings of the Concilium-Magnum and any other matters of general interest, shall be prepared by the Scribus-Magnus and sent to each member of the Fraternity.

ARTICLE XVII.

PRIVILEGES TO ATTEND MEETINGS.

70. A member of the society from one chapter shall at all times be privileged to attend the meetings of another, and when invited, be allowed to center into discussions, but shall not be permitted to vote on any question.

71. An alumni member shall at all times be privileged to attend the meetings of his chapter and to enter into discussions, but shall not be permitted to vote.

ARTICLE XVIII.

SECRECY.

72. The Constitution and the By-Laws, business of the meetings, of the chapters and of the Concilium-Magnum, and all the affairs of the chapter and of the society shall at all times be kept secret by the members, so that they may not in any way become intelligible to any person not a member of the society.

ARTICLE XIX.

APPLICATIONS ON TITLES.

73. The members of this society shall be known to each other by the name of "Brother." At the meetings of the chapters or of the Concilium-Magnum the various officers shall be addressed by their official titles.

ARTICLE XX.

BY-LAWS.

74. The By-Laws of the society shall not be suspended, added to, amended, abridged or changed except by a two-thirds vote of all the Concilium-Magnum, a motion for the same having been made and seconded at the previous meeting.

ARTICLE XXI.

THE CONSTITUTION.

75. This Constitution of the Phi Alpha Sigma shall not be added to, amended, abridged or changed except by a three-fourths vote of all the Concilium-Magnum, motion for the same having been made and seconded at the previous meeting.
